With financial difficulties in Europe seemingly multiplying, we will doubtless hear a great deal more during the next few months about debt cancellation and the wiping out of reparation payments. There will be a veritable flood of propaganda in the United States and we will be told once more that Uncle Sam is the world's greatest Shylock, if he does not cancel these debts and let Mr. American Taxpayer foot the bill. We will be informed that Europe is about to totter over the abyss and that only the cancellation of the debts will save her.

Well, how about it anyhow? Do the international debts form the one big obstacle to recovery from the depression? There is room for more than serious doubt on the subject. It is not to be forgotten that England, France, and Italy have collected from Germany all the money they have paid on the debts they have discharged to the United States. And in the case of France and Italy, these two nations have collected much more than enough; France something like 90 millions more a year. So it is difficult to see where these countries have been drained to pay their honest obligations to Uncle Sam.

And as for Germany, although that nation's finances are now in a serious plight, let it be remembered that the Reich has borrowed from Uncle Sam more than enough money to pay the reparations which it has sent to the victorious allied nations. Much of the borrowed money, indeed, has gone into public improvements, many of which were not needed and were only made because the money could be had so easily.

Just what is the matter, then, aside from the general deflation following the World war? The matter has to do in part with armaments. In spite of the terrible sufferings encountered in the war, Europe is not yet satisfied to take the road to peace. The victorious nations have imposed on the defeated ones a peace which is burdensome and in some instances unjust, are fearful lest the pace cannot be maintained, and are arming to the limit, while the defeated nations are only waiting for the opportunity to revise the peace treaties. Everywhere there is talk of peace, but nowhere, among the former enemies, any real desire for peace. As the Fort Wayne News-Sentinel recently put it:

"Nearly 13 years have gone by since the armistice was signed. That should have afforded the wrangling nations of the Old World ample time to adjust their disputes and to establish cooperation and mutual confidence. They have had the League, to which they have invited us to adhere as a member. But what have they done with the League? They have made the Locarno and Kellogg-Briand treaties and a network of pacts one with another 'to prevent war.' Yet their aggregate armament exceeds that of 1914 (the year in which the World war broke out) and the war feeling still prevails.

"By their continuance of the pre-war philosophy as the motivation of their political behavior, the European nations have depressed industry and commerce the world around, and they have seriously impaired their own credit. Among the chief advocates of war debt cancellation just now are certain prominent bankers. It is fair, therefore, to stress this point—No wise banker would grant more time, much less grant more credit, to an individual debtor who had thus wasted his substance. And nations are but groups of individuals."

Measured with the money which is spent for armament the part of the budget devoted by European nations to debt payments is small indeed in comparison. What is needed therefore is real arms revision, if this can be brot about. It cannot, of course be brought about until there is a genuine desire for peace in Europe. The biggest step in this direction would be an economic and political agreement between France and Germany. Whether this can be brought about is very doubtful but until it is brot about there is little chance for real peace and real arms reduction in Europe. A genuine agreement between France and Germany would immediately stabilize the continent, because it would dominate the continent for years to come.

All this talk of debt cancellation is beside the point. If the international financiers and European politicians want real relief from present intolerable conditions let them pay less attention to debt cancellation and more attention to bringing about real peace between France and Germany. This accomplished, the rest will be easy. Until it is accomplished there will be no real stability in Europe.

The Campbell Community Chest Council will meet tomorrow, Wednesday, at 4:30 p. m. in the office of the Campbell Water company. The meeting has been called by President Ralph H. Hyde for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year and for arranging the 1932 budget.

Four San Joseans featured in an automobile accident near Campbell Saturday evening. The car in which the four were riding was driven by Ray Gorham, and he failed to make the turn at the intersection of North Union and Campbell avenues. Those in the car besides the driver were Miss Elizabeth Wallbrink, Miss Lourinne Drew and Ray Bernzott.

The two girls received slight injuries but the boys were unhurt. Officer Harry Evans and Constable Frank Coupland took the four to their homes after finding that the car could not be driven.

About 50 people were present to greet Mr. and Mrs. Keesling and congratulate them on their twentieth wedding anniversary. Mrs. Keesling was presented with a beautiful china dinner set.

Mrs. Keesling is principal of the Cambrian school, and has been there for several years. Mrs. Eva Bachman was chairman of the committee that sponsored the party.

Cards were enjoyed until a late hour, when refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Campbell Defeats Los Gatos Ball Team 3-1

In a fast and exciting game Sunday Campbell easily defeated Los Gatos 3 to 1. For the first eight innings, Campbell did not allow a run, but in the ninth, a hit and a wild pitch accounted for Los Gatos' solitary score.

Martin pitched the first seven innings and was relieved by Butts, who finished the game. They allowed Los Gatos but four hits while collecting seven for themselves, including a home run by May.

Santa Clara Merchants play Campbell here next Sunday.

Country Women Enjoy Program on Canadian History Monday

The Country Woman's club enjoyed its first program meeting of the season Monday when the subject, "Canada — Early History," the first of several dealing with our neighbors to the north, was discussed.

Mrs. J. D. Blaine, acting chairman, explained that owing to illness Mrs. M. A. Ross and Mrs. W. S. Shelly were unable to be present, and the other members of the committee would endeavor to fill their places.

She and Mrs. Ray Wood read and quoted from a very interesting Canadian history which treats of the subject from the newer aspects, following the modern trend of historians.

Mrs. J. W. Withers gave an interesting account of the period of trade monopolies and paternalistic government. The three carried the history down to the Revolutionary period, giving a very good background from where it will be continued in later meetings. In connection with the reference to the deportation of the French Acadians Mrs. Blaine read excepts from Longfellow's "Evangeline," in which that period is so touchingly portrayed.

The card party to be held at the St. Claire hotel on Wednesday, Oct. 21, under auspices of the County Federation was announced. Reservations may be made with Mesdames George Burrow, L. J. Carboni, George Page or M. E. Purmort.

On Oct. 19 an open meeting of the club will be held at which moving pictures of the beautiful scenery of Canada will be shown by a representative sent by the Canadian Northern railway. A general invitation is extended to the ladies of the community.

CONGRESSMAN FREE HEARD HERE ON IMMIGRATION SUN.

"If proper immigration laws had been enacted years ago this country would not have such a tremendous bootlegger and gangster problem on its hands today," was the assertion of Congressman Arthur Free speaking at the Congregational church Sunday evening, Oct. 4.

Mr. Free is a member of the immigration committee in congress and looks for enactment of stricter laws regarding future immigration at coming session of congress.

Considerable opposition is expected to develop against proposed deportation laws, according to Mr. Free. But this country's gates must be guarded against undesirable and alien malefactors should be deported, he said. It is a needed protection for the citizen and his family.

Prof. and Mrs. Ira A. Abbott Entertain Faculty Members

Prof. and Mrs. Ira R. Abbot entertained the members of the faculty of the Campbell grammar school, and the special teachers at the Sunnyholme preventatorium, at a party one evening last week. Thirty-one teachers were present to enjoy the Abbot hospitality. Several new faculty members were given the opportunity to meet their associates socially.

Interesting stories of various vacations were recounted during a pleasant evening, at the close of which refreshments were served by the hostess.

Campbell Hi Trims Bellarmine School Here Friday Night

The local hardwood Friday evening was the scene of a rapid game between Campbell and Bellarmine Prep hoopsters. Coach Noddin's boys took the San Jose aggregation 18-4, with Byron Hall highpoint man. He made nine tallies, while Lea and DeSelle divided honors on the balance. These teams are in the 120 pound class.

MURTY TRIAL SET FOR WEDNESDAY IN LOCAL COURT

Culminating a six-month's dispute, H. E. Murty who withdrew from policing Campbell last Wednesday, was released on a $250 bail, charged with disturbing the peace. It is alleged he expressed his opinion of Constable Frank Coupland and Patrolman Harry Evans in too fiery and forcible manner. The trial, which had been set for last Monday, was postponed until tomorrow. Miller will be the attorney for Murty.

Murty, an employee of the California Patrol service of San Jose six months ago signed up sufficient subscribers here to maintain him in town. The Chamber of Commerce had hired Harry Evans after the resignation of Patrolman George Barnes, last April.

With Murty on duty, numerous disputes arose over the question of authority between Murty and Evans and Coupland, with the latter two, of course, having the support of the sheriff's office and the Chamber of Commerce.

Giving the gradual withdrawal of his subscribers as his reason for resigning, Murty quit the California Patrol, and later, when he met Coupland and Evans, the dispute started. Evans warned Murty, threatening arrest and Murty gave himself up to Judge Blaine and was charged with disturbing the peace.

Pundita Circle Meets With Mrs. Walter Stray

Twenty-five members of the Pundita Circle were present at their first meeting of the season held at the home of Mrs. W. H. Stray on North Second street last Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Stray's decoration of her home was in keeping with the topic of the day, "Fall Gardening." Baskets of beautiful autumn flowers were tastefully placed about the rooms.

Mrs. George Page, president, presided over the business meeting, which was followed by an entertaining program.

Miss Katherine Wood played three piano selections. Mrs. Gordon Ainsley gave a talk on bulbs, their planting and culture. Mrs. J. J. Pardee read a paper on "Fall Gardening" and demonstrated the correct method of pruning a rose bush.

Refreshments were later served by Mrs. Stray, assisted by Mrs. J. J. Pardee and Mrs. A. M. Standish.

The next meeting of the club will be held Wednesday, Oct. 14.

The next meeting will be on Oct. 4, with Mrs. Wilbur Mitchell on Quito road. Mrs. M. E. Mumma and Mrs. R. Y. Maxon are in charge of the program. The subject will be "Political Europe of Today."

News Review of Current Events the World Over

France and Germany Create Joint Trade Commission —Young Chinese Clamor for War With Japan—Hoover's Economy Plans.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

BETTER in Europe, worse in Asia, little change in America. So might be summarized the political and economic weather report of the week for the world. First place among the events in Europe goes to the friendly visit to Berlin of Premier Laval and Foreign Minister Briand of France. They were in the German capital two days, and out of their conversation with President Von Hindenburg, Chancellor Bruening and Foreign Minister Curtius grew a permanent mixed commission to pool the economic activities of the two nations. This body will be consultative and will include both employers and employees, and according to the official communique its general purpose is to fight the economic crisis and to call for co-operation from other nations whenever necessary. "This action will be the first step in co-operation which has become the need of the hour and in which all are called to participate."

President Von Hindenburg.

When one considers that France and Germany have been bitter rivals for centuries and often active enemies, this result of the Berlin visit is remarkable. The commercial entente that is being forced may well make future wars between the two nations impossible. The commission will seek to promote trade and export agreements that will bring on a joint search for new markets. Its sponsors aver that no increase of customs tariffs is expected and that no third party is aimed at by the pact. The immediate object is co-operation in finance, industry, shipping and aviation.

When President Von Hindenburg was told the French statesmen were to call on him, the old warrior at first balked because his name is still on the allied list of World war "criminals," second only to the ex-kaiser. Finally Bruening and the French ambassador, Andre Francois-Poncet, persuaded him to receive the visitors.

Premier Laval, when he comes to Washington in October, will submit the Franco-German agreement to President Hoover. It was intimated in Berlin that Chancellor Bruening also may come over to see Mr. Hoover and lay before him Germany's viewpoint on war debts and reparations.

TRUCE in armaments for one year, beginning November 1, is the present aim of the League of Nations disarmament committee. Modifying the Italian proposition to meet the objections of the majority of the league members, the committee adopted this resolution:

"The assembly requests the governments invited to the disarmament conference (to be held in Geneva next February) to prepare for this event by means of an armament truce and accordingly requests the council (of the league) to urge the governments convened to said conference to give proof of their earnest desire for a successful issue of efforts to insure and organize peace, and without prejudicing the decision of the conference or the programs of proposals submitted to it by each government, to refrain from any measure involving an increase in their armaments.

"It likewise requests the council to ask the governments to state before November 1 whether they are prepared for a period of one year, as from that date, to accept this truce in armaments."

OUT in the Far East the dove of peace was getting hard usage. Prospects for warfare between Japan and China were little lessened by the efforts of President Hoover and the decided flabby doings of the League of Nations council. Japan, through its league delegate, M. K. Yoshizawa, turned down flatly the plan for an international commission to inquire into the facts in the Manchurian row, the delegate's words being: "For eign participants in the discussion are useless and my government does not think it necessary to call in outsiders." He asserted Japan desired to withdraw its troops to the railway zone as soon as it was convinced its civilian population would be safe without their protection, and added that Japan did not want war with China.

C. T. Wang.

Neither does the Chinese government want war, apparently, but the Chinese people, especially the students, are clamoring for hostilities and for a nation-wide boycott of Japan as a preliminary. Because they thought Foreign Minister C. T. Wang had failed in the effort to get help from the League of Nations, the students in Nanking invaded the foreign office and attacked Mr. Wang, injuring him severely. After this outrage the minister carried out his long cherished desire to resign. Alfred Sze was appointed to succeed him. The young Chinese, gathered in big mobs, assailed Japanese civilians in various cities, the worst of these outbreaks being in Hongkong. The British garrison there was called out and charged the mobs repeatedly, killing and wounding a number of the rioters. Throughout the country the students were organizing and volunteering to serve at the front against Japan. Meanwhile the Canton rebel government continued its negotiations for the union of all factions to meet the emergency.

LONDON heard that the former sultan and caliph of Turkey had agreed to resume the duties of the caliphate with certain temporal powers at Jerusalem. The plan, which was conceived by the pan-Islam leaders, it was thought might wreck the Indian conference and also revive the Arab-Jewish quarrel in Palestine.

NOW coming home to the United States, we read that President Hoover is hard at work pruning down the cost of the federal government in the effort to meet the prospective treasury deficit of between a billion and a billion and a half dollars. According to Washington dispatches, his program contemplates a limited increase in taxes, rigorous economies in government expenditures and congressional appropriations and continued borrowing at lowest interest rates in many years. The interest rate on the public debt, it was pointed out, is much higher than the rate that can be obtained on treasury paper at the present time.

Sen. Hale.

On Tuesday it was announced that Mr. Hoover had decided to eliminate the naval building program laid out for the 1933 fiscal year and, in addition, to cut down the destroyer program, already appropriated for, from eleven ships to five. Reductions for the navy over the next three years, it was stated, stand to run as much as one hundred million dollars.

This certainly will be a terrible blow to Senator Frederick Hale of Maine, chairman of the naval affairs committee, and those of his colleagues who belong in the "big navy" class. Whether they can do anything about it remains to be seen. Navy officials, without wishing to be quoted, point out that if Mr. Hoover's economy plan is carried out, our navy will sink to third place by the end of 1932, when it will rank below that of Japan in all but capital ships. It may be remarked, too, that it doesn't do much good to the steel concerns, the ship yards and their employees.

SENATOR JAMES E. WATSON of Indiana, majority leader of the senate, has called to the attention of President Hoover the fact that higher tariff rates may be necessary to protect American industries from the depreciated currencies of nations that have abandoned the gold standard, these now including Denmark, Norway and Sweden. Mr. Watson says he believes that if the depreciated currency program continues for any length of time, the tariff rates of the Hawley-Smoot tariff act will be abrogated and it will be absolutely necessary to raise the rates from 20 to 25 per cent to overcome the lower production costs in countries now on the double currency standard. Canada already has taken such action.

FOLLOWING the example of United States Steel and other big corporations, the Aluminum Company of American announced a 10 per cent reduction of salaries and wages effective on October 1, throughout the company and all its subsidiaries. This concern is owned almost wholly by the Mellon family. Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, still a stockholder, is said not to have been informed that the cut was coming. He declined to make any comment.

This action by the Aluminum company further aroused Congressman Wright Patman of Texas, who already had announced he would seek during the next session of congress to have Mr. Mellon removed from office because of his stock ownership in corporations. Patman says he has been working all summer gathering data to support his resolution for the impeachment of Mr. Mellon. The secretary, he asserts, is "directly interested in the business of trade and commerce" within the meaning of the old law he will cite.

"Mr. Mellon relinquished his position on the board of directors of the Aluminum company," Patman said, "but, as stockholder, he directs the board. His brother represents him."

Among the other large concerns that have just reduced salaries or wages or both are the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad, the United States Envelope company and Fairbanks, Morse & Co. The Norfolk & Western railroad has taken a step that will win wide approval. Hereafter it will not employ any married women, and any woman employee who marries will automatically lose her job.

GEN. SMEDLEY BUTLER was not the only eminent American soldier to retire from active service at the end of September. Maj. Gen. William Lassiter also went on the retired list, after more than forty years of military service, his last post being commander of the department of Hawaii. He had served his country in so many foreign lands that he was known as the army's premier globe-trotter.

Maj. Gen. Lassiter

Born in Petersburg, Va., 64 years ago, Lassiter, when eighteen, was appointed to the United States Military academy, where he graduated four years later. He first faced fire during the Spanish-American war.

An unusual amount of Lassiter's service has been abroad. He has served three times in the Philippines. He was inspector-general of the Cuban pacification in 1908 and 1909. In 1910 he visited China, Japan and Korea on leave.

During the World war Lassiter served in France. From 1923 to 1926 he commanded the Panama canal department. At the end of his duty there he was ordered to South America as president of the plebiscitary commission on Tacna-Arica. In the same year he visited Europe and shortly afterward was assigned to the Hawaiian department.

CERTAIN politicians who have been trying, usually for their own selfish ends, to create a boom for the nomination of Calvin Coolidge next year by the Republicans received a quietus in the shape of an article by the former President published by the Saturday Evening Post. In this he quite definitely denied any idea of seeking the nomination or of accepting it if offered, and urged that all good Republicans support Mr. Hoover's candidacy for a re-nomination.

MEXICO'S new ambassador to Washington, Dr. Jose Manuel Puig Casaurane, has received the appointment of the American government as persona grata and probably already is on his way to his post at the National Capital, where he succeeds Senor Tellez. Dr. Puig Casaurane is considered one of his country's ablest statesmen, and he has served at home as secretary of education and secretary of industry, commerce and labor. It is not likely that he will find in Washington any problems at present that will give him trouble, for our relations with Mexico just now are entirely satisfactory.

Dr. Puig Casaurane

STOCK exchanges of the country, especially that of New York, were warned by Senator James E. Watson of Indiana, majority leader of the senate, that the upper house is likely to adopt a resolution for an investigation of short selling and bear raids.

"Many senators," continued Senator Watson, "are of the belief that brokerage houses should not be permitted to lend the securities of their customers unless either expressly ordered to do so by them or their consent is obtained for that purpose. They are of the opinion that an order of that kind by the stock exchange itself would be salutary at a time like this, or failing in that, that some legislation might be enacted that would compel the adoption of such a course.

"They further believe that all short transactions should be thrown open to the public; that the light of day should be permitted to shine in upon all their deals; that the names of the individuals and the brokerage houses should be made public; that the stocks dealt in should be made known, and that all the details of each transaction should be subject to public scrutiny."

KIWANIS NOTES
By Heck

The Kiwanis club held the last "ladies' night" of the season last Tuesday evening at the Community hall. A dinner at 6:30 was followed by an entertaining program. D. H. Cramer, president, presided over the first part of the meeting and Roy Archibald directed the program.

The principal speaker of the evening was Capt. Delbert Brunton, principal of the high school in Mountain View. His talk was on "Communism in Russia." He outlined the politic and economic conditions there and compared them with the situation here.

Several vocal selections were given by the quartet composed of Harry C. Smith, D. H. Cramer, H. W. Morton and Dr. W. I. Merrill, who also accompanied on the piano. Mr. Morton led the assembly singing.

"Clipper" Smith, head coach of the stampeding Broncs of Santa Clara was the big attraction at Kiwanis luncheon today, and gave an interesting talk on football and its benefits. Coach Smith was once of the famous Notre Dame squad and is producing some real team performers that are proving themselves worth reckoning with. Cal and Stanford topnotchers had very little over these boys and Clipper Smith is the "why." He is drilling his boys on "courage, self-control and self-sacrifice," the prime factors in the development of men for life activity.

Tuesday evening Campbell club will attend the district meeting at Los Gatos and take their ladies as a special program will be offered. Dr. Frank Anderson is the spellbinder from Campbell in the oratorical contest.
